FIFTH E. CANADA BUDDHIST CONFAB UNDERWAY THIS WEEKEND, OVER 60 DELEGATES TO ATTEND

MONTREAL — Under the guiding theme, "Sangha is the Unity Through Gassho," the Fifth Conference of the Eastern Canada Young Buddhists' League gets underway this Saturday, May 16, at Montreal's Hotel Berkeley.

Starting with the Opening Service in the Hotel's Cartier Room on Saturday, and closing with the Sayonara Social on Monday, over sixty delegates from Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal and the United States face a heavy schedule of events during the three days of the confab.

The delegates will sit in business sessions on Saturday afternoon, Sunday morning, and Monday morning, to hear reports and discuss a heavy agenda of topics submitted by the various chapters; and to formulate future plans of the E.C.Y.B.L. To afford delegates a welcome respite from the heavy sessions, a program of social events has been drawn up by the Conference committee. The outstanding highlight will be the Conference Banquet and Ball to be held in the Cartier and Champs

One Man's Opinion

I'm pretty convinced that the Nisei will be successful people [illegible] other hand, very ordinary people. They are in a rut.

Nisei are only distinguishable [illegible] by black hair and almond eyes. There is, I think, a subtle below-the-surface fear of being different, and a pattern of sticking close to what is considered "normal".

The 'average' Nisei has pretty well conformed himself to the accepted pattern of the money society of today and have become successful and sometimes rather self-complacent. All of which might be insulting stuff, I'll admit, for then I'll bet that no one actually considers himself in his own private opinion as normal, as ordinary, as plain average.

There is, as I said, a fear of being different and unconventional, although it is the hardest thing to get people to admit it—and all because of the feeling that someone will talk about it and say nasty things if they should ever jump off the comfortable bandwagon and do something refreshingly different. And it is because of this acting like the large majority that they rarely get to discover themselves.

One thing seems to be the [illegible] call of the Nisei—the simple words, "I'm so busy". And yet when one ponders over the things with which they busy themselves [illegible] working overtime, watching a favorite TV program and [illegible] one sometimes wonders whether the business is worthwhile or conducive to anything that will better a person in his [illegible] outlook.

[illegible] of course, be told that the "normal" way of life is the healthiest, happiest way of living. [illegible] agree that it is the [illegible] physically. But not to [illegible] where we become rather [illegible] scope of thought [illegible] extend beyond next [illegible] payment on the house or [illegible] of 1953 cars, important [illegible] it may be, and be left [illegible] else.

Of course too, one must be [illegible] a money society and [illegible] a steady good living [illegible] a horrible kind of [illegible] you really want out [illegible] away sadly in some [illegible] chest and taken out [illegible] in privacy.

Nisei Outstanding Grad at Sask. U.

REGINA, Sask. — A 20-year-old Nisei was awarded the Governor-General's gold medal as the outstanding graduate of the University of Saskatchewan last week.

He is Arthur Wakabayashi, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wakabayashi of Saskatoon, Sask. He was born in Regina. Enrolled at the University of Saskatchewan in 1949, he received last week the bachelor of commerce degree and the bachelor of arts degree, both with great distinction.

Many Achievements

During his four years at the University, Wakabayashi distinguished himself by attaining many academic and extra-curricular achievements.

On completion of Grade 12 in 1949 at the Nutana Collegiate, he was awarded a university entrance scholarship. At the end of his freshman university year, he was awarded the first year arts and science scholarship.

Wakabayashi took part in many extra-curricular activities as a student. In 1951-52 he was co-editor of the university yearbook, "The Greystone". He was elected to the presidency of the college of commerce for the past year and also elected to the executive of the Students' Representative Council. He also worked for two years on the student newspaper, "The Sheaf".

Sports also took a part in his university activities for he played in inter college athletics on commerce teams.

In RCAF Reserve

He served the last three years as a member of the RCAF reserve university squadron and was commissioned as a pilot officer in the accounts branch in 1952. He will shortly be transferred to the reserve with the rank of flying officer.

First Japanese Quota Immigrant Enlists

RICHMOND, Calif. — Sozaburo Kujiraoka, first Japanese quota immigrant admitted under the 1952 Act to the U.S., volunteered for services with the United States Air Forces last week and was sent to Parks Air Force Base Calif.

Since his entry last March, he has been working in a local nursery to earn money for a college education. He volunteered to demonstrate his loyalty and admiration for American ideals.

He was residing with his uncle, Keisaburo Koda, pioneer rice grower in Central California.

POPULATION RISING

HONOLULU — The Japanese population in Hawaii is rapidly rising, according to statistics issued by the Hawaiian Bureau of Health.

Figures indicated that today there are 189,219 persons of Japanese ancestry residing in the Island territory. Caucasians are outnumbered about 3 to 1, with only 69,461 at the latest count.

Ban on Imported Japan Shoyu Ends

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — An agreement between Japan and the U.S. has been reached on the future importation of Japanese shoyu sauce and bamboo sprouts into the U.S. Large shipments had been held up in San Francisco and other ports by customs officials because it was claimed that the items were "Chinese-type" goods and not admissable under the trading with the enemy act unless specially cleared by the U.S. treasury department.

Merchandise valued at several tens of thousands of dollars were held up, crippling many importing firms.

Under the new agreement, Japanese exporters will have to secure certificates from both the ministry of international trade and industry and the ministry of agriculture that the items to be sent to the U.S. do not originate in Red China.

Japanese Movie-Goers Think Marilyn Silly

TOKYO — A rear view of actress Marilyn Monroe's walk may set some American males afire, but Japanese movie goers just think it's funny.

Japanese broke into "spontaneous laughter" at a rearward view in a Monroe movie, the newspaper Tokyo Shimbun reported today.

The newspaper said in an editorial Miss Monroe's walk was "ridiculous". It called her figure okay but thought she had "low sex appeal."

Organize Board to Combat Nisei Delinquency in L.A.

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — A sudden rise in Nisei juvenile delinquency and crime in Los Angeles in recent months recently resulted in the forming of a community board of Japanese American leaders to take strong measures to prevent further outbreaks.

Although the number of juvenile delinquent cases among Nisei and Sansei are still few and apart—as compared to other nationality groups—the community learned that they are on the increase.

Sgt. Kenneth Turner, who is with the juvenile night watch Los Angeles Police Dept., said he had never known of a Nisei delinquent before the war, but admitted he "has seen several records involving them after the war."

Turner, a resident of Gardena for over 20 years and with the force over a decade, said that strangely enough the Nisei troublemakers do not [illegible] as a group.

"They are singled out and prowl the streets at night with gangs of other racial extractions, the white, the Mexicans and the Negroes. We may find one of them with thugs attempting to steal a car, or caught loitering around a saloon late at night."

The average age of Nisei [illegible] involved [illegible]

family and community control over youngsters. While such cases before the war were settled behind "closed doors," the fact that it was be brought into the open may alert parents to realize the necessity of rearing children properly.

Father Hugh Lavery of Maryknoll explained the current problem as an aftermath of relocation centers. "Japanese parents had good control over their offsprings, but after they were hustled into relocation centers, there came a gap between them," he told the meeting.

The weekly Nisei Vernacular, Crossroads, stated in [illegible] editorial [illegible]

[illegible]

Nisei and Sansei are being apprehended for all types of crimes rape, robbery, burglary, car stealing, narcotics, gangsterism, vagrancy and loitering.

Japanese Canadians in Hamilton to Enter Float In Coronation Celebration, Plan Odori Dancing

HAMILTON — The Japanese Canadian community of Hamilton will enter a float of a typical Japanese theme on which will ride a group of Nisei girls dressed in kimonos and dancing the odori as part of Hamilton's Coronation Day Celebration on June 2.

The budget for the JC community's participation in the pageant was set at $500, the sum to be collected by a general canvass.

Representatives of all clubs and organizations in Hamilton were [illegible] at the Buddhist Church Hall on May [illegible] discussing participation. The meeting was called by the Interim Committee of the Hamilton JCCA [illegible] [illegible] and the Canadian National [illegible]

[illegible] Richard Kato [illegible] appointed chairman and Mits Nakashiba acting in liaison capacity with the C.N.U.C. and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The project will be an all community affair. The Young Buddhist Society will handle the Japanese costumes and odori group while the Kyowa Club will take care of the fund-raising. Arrangements for the float will be [illegible] by the Interim Committee of the Hamilton JCCA and Messrs. T. Yoshida, T. Motetsune and K. Honda will handle construction.

A second meeting was held on May [illegible] to discuss further details.

An Ajinomoto Salesman

By T. W. TANAKA

Red-Topped Container

CHICAGO — "The American people eat an awful lot of food, but mostly it tastes pretty bad."

He said this as we walked out of the plush Lake Shore Club where we had stuffed ourselves with the establishment's piece de resistance.

He's refreshingly candid about everything he sees—but when it comes to cuisine, you can tell that he's right in his element.

He's Saburosuke Suzuki, 65, board chairman of the Ajinomoto Company of Tokyo. He carries a small red-topped glass container wherever he goes. When he sits down to dine—you guessed it—out comes the Ajinomoto.

Cool as a Cucumber

At the Shoreland Hotel on Chicago's Southside (he ditched the Palmer House, Hilton and Drake for something "quiet and residential"), he confronted Scene Magazine's managing editor Shigemi Mazawa with that ever-present Ajinomoto shaker.

Looking with disdain at my Seven-up, he took in Mazawa's scotch-and-soda. "Here," he said in Japanese, and he shook the Ajinomoto vigorously into Mazawa's glass.

He then paused in triumph. The Ajinomoto would lift that glass out of the mundane and into the class of a connoisseur's delight.

But Mazawa, with a candor matching Suzuki's, admitted as to how it tasted pretty awful. He added quickly: "Probably you put too much in it." The old man had no comment. He just put another dash of Ajinomoto into his own scotch and soda.

Flavour-Improver

As if you already didn't know, Ajinomoto is one of Japan's contribution to Western gastronomy. You can get the technical data elsewhere. But, simply stated, it's a white powder that makes your food taste better. Properly, it is referred to as MSG, or mono-sodium glutamate. And it acts as a food flavor improver. It is an extract of the versatile soy bean. Suzuki's company introduced it to the U.S. The patent ran out in the 30's, and Ajinomoto Company was well on the way toward becoming a U.S. processor when the war knocked it out.

30,000 Tons per Annum

When Ajinomoto with[illegible] Japan, U.S. competit[illegible] took over. Today two of the largest U.S. producers of MSG are General Mills and International Mineral and Chemicals. Ajinomoto is making a comeback—as most Issei and Nisei housewives are aware. (You'll usually find the red-and-orange can of Ajinomoto in Japanese kitchens). I learned from Suzuki and from his U.S. Representative, S. Yanagida (who is headquartered in New York) that Ajinomoto is derived from soy bean grown right here in the U.S. Midwest. Suzuki's company buys some 30,000 tons a year. At $140 a ton, that's quite a haul.

Gourmets Rare Here

The 65-year-old Suzuki has the energy of a 35-year-old. I watched him foot it along the entire length of Navy Pier here as he personally took in some 400 exhibits at the American Management Association's food packaging exhibit. Yanagida, who is closer to my age, and I had some difficulty keeping up with him. Suzuki looked at the shining new equipment and shook his head. Japan's industrialization has a long way to go before striding abreast of this, he mused. But, he would add, "Food on the whole tastes pretty bad in this country." About the only gourmets treat he's found so far is grapefruit juice. And he misses those Shizuoka-ken strawberries, which apparently taste good even without Ajinomoto.

'Aja-pah! Means 'Nuts' Word Sweeps Japan

Tokyo, Japan

A new word is sweeping the nation among the young and old, but it's predominant among the youngsters. "Aja-pah" is as popular as "you said it" or "nuts" in America.

It was first introduced by radio, then taken without abandon by the movies and stage. Its meaning is "ara-ara". It's an ordinary expression of surprise, but this "aja-pah" is said with a certain gusto and a movement of the shoulders which seems to be of Occupation origin.

If "Gorgeous George" [illegible] is sweeping America, "aja-pah" is the counterpart in Japan.

If you see everything in garb[illegible] [illegible] "aja-pah" ... If you're [illegible] "[illegible]" ... And if there's no [illegible] in your pocket, you throw both hands in the air and exclaim "aja-pah!"

COUNTERPOINT

should reject conformity and the perhaps comforting feeling of being the same and doing the same as anybody else for some sort of true self-expression.

I think that the Nisei have had admirable guts and stamina to come out of a struggle, almost epic in proportions, that is rarely experienced by most people. And they have come out successful as hell but not much more than plain ordinary as individuals.

Take any sort of community endeavour, for example. Where there should be a feeling of camaraderie and co-operativeness, there is only a negative sort of reaction. There is no sensitive insight but only a rapid shying away in a sort of a cliquishness and pettiness and a "let-george-do it" attitude that is pretty appalling when you think about it. This is quite common in Nisei society when you get different groups and individuals to work in a common cause.

What I dislike most of all when someone is courageous enough to stick to his guns, as it were, and sort of flaunt convention because he feels it is the right thing to do, is the sort of pity reserved for him as if he were some sort of strange animal that crawled out of some hole.

I sometimes wish that Nisei will become a little less successful and comfortable and little less ordinary. The Nisei are trying too hard to be invisible as possible and succeeding too well at it.

Only 3,970 GI Babies In Japan Says Official

Officials said the total of babies born to foreign soldiers and Japanese girls was "unexpectedly small." Previous reports had placed the number much higher.

Femme Fare

Madame A.

Madame A. is a tea cup reader. Not one of those cheap ones who give a reading with a 50¢ order of afternoon tea, but a high class one only reached by recommendation and by appointment. She boasts a waiting list a mile long. To be kept waiting 11 days for a "reading" is not unusual.

If I expected something bizarre like heavily draped velvet curtains, crystal ball, black cat and Madame A. swimming in a cloud of Oriental incense, I was surprised. Madame A. looked like a cosy, friendly housewife. As she ushered us into her respectable living room, she confided to us in most motherly fashion that she was late getting her supper and would we wait. She caught me looking at a photograph of a chubby little youngster and said, "He's my grandson".

And while Madame A. bustled in the kitchen for the brew that was to change my future, I gave myself a talking to. "Look, Cindy-gal, she's a fake," I said to my less-practical self. "You're old enough to know better. Really, you're much too intelligent to believe anyone can tell the future in a mess of tea leaves. You've run into tea cup readers before! They ask leading questions and before you know it, you're telling them what you WANT to know!"

But less-practical me turned a deaf ear to practical me. After all, Madame A. just might be good!

"O.K.", said my practical self, "just remember—there's a sucker born every minute!"

"My dear, you have such a cute little figure! (They were her very first words, so help me!) And your clothes—you have such taste! (Friend critics who haven't given up trying to make me over, please note!) I just know you do things with your hands. You're a designer?"

I shook my head. "No? Then you must paint? No? But you must do something with your hands!" Madame A. persisted.

I suppressed making an inane remark, "Yes, I usually use my hands to pick up things with," remembering I had a whole Canadian Dollar at stake.

"But you must do something with your hands. Crochet?" I shook my head. "Knit—you surely must knit!" I nodded, mentally recalling my attemps at knitting socks the size of boats.

Madame A. brightened up noticeably. "Ah, my dear, I knew it! You're going to do great things, my dear, with your hands. If you aren't a designer, my dear, you should have been."

She scrutinized the mess of tea leaves in my cup. "Your wish, my dear, will come true. See that circle—a complete circle. And across this angle of the square—you see it dear, don't you?—is the . . ."

And then she went off at a tangent and charged, "You were born in January?" I shook my head. "In April then?" I shook my head. She looked a little crestfallen, and went back for a second, deep scrutinny. "Then something interesting and important to you happened in January!"

I said "O, yes!" perhaps a little too enthusiastically . . . but I was remembering candlelight and wine and a kindred spirit. She patted my hand as if she understood, and asked confidentially, "What month were you born?"

I told her "September", feeling that after two bad guesses, she'd have nothing more to say. But not my Madame A.! She rhapsodized: "Ah! You were born in September. I might have known it. Yes, the 9th month, 9 is your lucky number, my dear. 5 and 4 make 9. 5 and 4 shows 54; 1954, my dear, is your great year. September . . . uh'm . . . sign of Virgo. Great people are born under the sign of Virgo . . . teachers, instructors, lawyers, actors and writers. And next year, my dear, in 1954, there will be the culmination of a great romance!"

This was too much! A good year—money, success, fame—and on top of that, a romance. That was laying it on a little too thick.

She hurried over my protest. "But, my dear—there's romance all around you. Can you place the initial W? There's a most [illegible] gentleman, very close to you, with the initial W." I shook my head. She twisted the cup. "Well, perhaps it's an A. Yes, it's an A . . ." She twisted the cup again at a 90-degree angle. "Ah, perhaps it's the letter J. See, you can see it . . . look!"

All I could see was one little blob of a tea leaf with a [illegible] of tea dust next to it. "Mark my words, dear, that initial [illegible] you don't place him now, you will soon—will mean a lot to [illegible]" Madame A. said solemnly.

But Madame A. wasn't finished yet. She went on and [illegible] some accurate guesses. She told me I had been a very pass[illegible] stubborn child, that a great upheaval made me leave my home [illegible] which she could feel began with a letter V; that around Ma[illegible] was seriously ill; that I was planning to move a long, long [illegible] from here some day.

How did she know I came from Vancouver? I had b[illegible] stubborn, passionate youngster. I had been ill—perhaps [illegible], but long enough to make me feel sorry for m[illegible] Madame A. may be so much baloney, but sometimes she can[illegible] [illegible] be shrugged aside as completely fake.

"You have a wonderful mother," she continued. "She's old and not very well and very much worried about you." Now . . .

中共外原産地證明があれば許可

【ロサンゼルス發】輸入禁止となっている日本醬油及び昨年秋以來、ロサンゼルスやサンフランシスコで陸揚げを止められている醬油が半年ぶりでオーケーとなって近く商店に姿を現わすことになった。かねて交渉中だった日米兩國政府では「原産證明手續」について意見が一致したので先週、兩國政府より同時に發表された。これによると中共地區から輸入した原料で作った品物は米國は輸入嚴禁、しかし香港や台灣が原産地の品物は通産者の證明書があれば許される。それ故、目下倉庫にねむっている醬油や竹の子などは通産省からの證明が届きしだい解禁されるものだと米國側では語っている。

二十世紀の神話（一）

──（ブラジルに現れた天皇の特使）──

高木俊朗

ブラジルから歸つてきた永野勘太郎の所持金は、トランクにぎつしりつめこんであつた。横濱稅關で調べる時に、トランクから取り出すと、テーブルいつぱいに紙幣の山ができた。

昭和二十六年四月はじめ、永野勘太郎は一家一族二十數名をひきいて、意氣揚々として、錦を飾つて故國に歸つてきた。「ソーミン」の人々としてブラジルに渡り移民生活三十有餘年。日本内地では想像もつかない悲慘困苦と戰つて途に、指折りの成功者となつた。夢にも忘れることのなかつた晴れの歸國であつた。歸國したいが金がないという友人たち家族十數名の旅費を全部彼が出してやつた。今や彼は開拓立志傳の人物となり、得意の絶頂にあつた。その成功者の輝やかしい夢が、たちまちにして崩れたのだつた。

永野勘太郎の持つてきた金は、ブラジルのクルゼーロ貨でもなければ、アメリカのドル貨でもなかつた。彼はるとさらに、莫大な財産を處分した金を、南米アルゼンチンのペソ貨に換えて持つてきた。ペソ貨を持ちこんだのでは日本貨と交換できないばかりか沒收されてしまう。永野勘太郎が粒々辛苦して作り上げた全財産は今や紙くずの山にひとしくなつた。この時の全額をドル相場で換算すると約八千万圓になつた。

彼が二十万株のコーヒー樹をうえた廣大な土地を買つた金を、わざ〳〵ペソ貨に換えたのは、戰勝の日本に歸るには、友好國アルゼンチンの金でなければならないと、教えられたからであつた。敗戰國であるアメリカやブラジルの金では役に立たないというのだ。

この時まで、彼は日本の戰勝を信じ、自から呼號していた。だからこそ、全財産を處分して、日本に「永住歸國」する氣になつたのだ。「ブラジルの日本人は總引揚すべきである」という臣道連盟の理論を實行したのである。彼らの考えでは、日本が勝つたからには、何を好んで愉快でないブラジルにいる必要があろうか。それよりは、早く日本に歸りさらに日の丸のはためく南方占領地域に再移住して、大東亞建設のために働くべきである、というのであつた。

永野勘太郎は激しい絶望のどん底に叩き落された。だがこうしたことは、永野老人一人ではなかつた。同じ悲劇はすでにたくさんくりかえされていた。稅關はこうした事情を諒解していたから、大藏省に對して、永野勘太郎のために特別の處置をとるように申請した。

晩香坡日本共立語學校再開祝賀會については前號に所報したが、モントリオルからナナイモに至るまでカナダ内各地から寄せられた祝電五十通近くで、當夜の寄附者家族二百八十にのぼつたそうである。次は祝賀會に於ける佐藤校長の感謝の辞（記者）

敎育王國の建設―之れが私の一生の理想であります。この理想實現のために日夜心を碎き精進し喜び苦闘し妻と共に全生命を捧げて敎育王城たるこの學校に立てこもつて來たのでした。

たま〳〵太平洋戰の勃發により私共はこの王城を棄てアルバータ大高原、[illegible]地に移動、[illegible]年[illegible]ならなかつたのでございました。

月を見るにつけ花を賞するにつけまぶたにちらつくのは教え子の面影 いねて夢に表われるのも學校の姿 朝に夕に祈つたのも學校の再開でした。私はこのためにトロントに行ること四回、晩香坡を訪ねること四回。然し當時の同胞はたゞ物質的の生活再建にのみ忙しく學校などの文化的復興には省みるいとまがなかつたのでございます。

一九四七年私はトロントに於ける學務委員會の決議に基き學校賣却の使命をおびて晩香坡に出てまいりました。その時私は友に「只今私は自分の育てはぐくんで來た子を葬る墓穴を掘るために晩香坡に出ていきます。」とその時の苦衷[illegible]どんぞこに投げ入れられた感じでございました。

同學校維持保存に極力つとめられた井手律さん、佐久間太重さんをはじめ維持會幹部再開のために盡瘁された岩田欽一さんをはじめ晩香坡市協の諸氏、學校内部の改裝、祝賀會準備等に奉仕された元持留吉さんをはじめ多數の篤志家の並々ならぬ犠牲に對して心からなる感謝の意を表しておきます。これらの人々の協力なしには本日の慶びを見ることが出來なかつたでしよう

敎育とは將來を意味するものであります。この祝賀會は最後のものでなく、スタートなのでございます。これから先も後援となつて御支持、御後援下さるよう御願いいたします。

賢母？

梅月生

五月一日、オンタリオでは雨が降り風が吹くで、寒くてトラウト釣りのシーズン開けも台なしの形であつたが、それから十日たゝぬ間に氣溫は八〇度を越して一度に春――いや夏が來たようなものである。芽が出る。葉が出る。そして早くも水を[illegible]しなければならなくなり[illegible]

五月十日の「母の日」、近着の日本の新聞を見ていたら、こんなことが出ていた。母の愛をたゝえるには、無條件にたたえるには、ちと、ふさわしからぬことではあるが。――

『賢母？』から離れされる兄妹」という題で、中部社會事業短期大學教授、浅賀ふさ氏の筆である。

清君はまだ卅にならないのに、四度目の結婚をしたところです。今度こそは親せきの人達が願うのも無理ないことです。彼は別段悪いところもないのですが、學校を出ないうちに下宿の娘といつしよになり、やがてわがまゝな相手がきらいになつて別れ、二度三度とかりそめな結婚をしては失敗し、このことで親の頭痛の種となつています。小柄で、まだ小娘のように思われていた清君の妹も、十七の暮れに妊娠したので、びつくりした母親が大急ぎで結婚させたのでした。

この兄妹の母親は、みずから賢母をもつて任じていた小學校教員で、母性愛は確かに強そうですが、自分の子供を他家の子供より優れたものに敎育しようと思い、自分の理想通りに敎育できる[illegible]つているようです。かつて軍國主義華やかな戰時中のことですが、青年期にさしかかつていた清君は、級友がみんな髪をのばしていたので、彼ものばそうとしました。若い人達には、これは子供からおとなへ移る一つの滿足です。軍人に仕立られた時代であつたとはいえ、この母親は斷然これを許さなかつたのです。清君は自分だけがボウズ頭で目立つのがいやだつたので、自分の意志を通そうと言い張ると彼女は『それでは親族會議を開いて相談しよう』と言つたので、清君は負けてしまいました。

思春期から青年期にかけて子供は母親の是認よりも仲間に受けいれられる方がもつともつと必要なことです。もつとも大切なものは、母親のきずなから解放されることと、仲間のだれかれからも引け目を感じないで、その中に自分の場を見出すことです。同じ年ごろの人々との關係こそ、なによりも大切なものです。

カナダの苦情を聞き入れる

米國がセント・ローレンス運河計畫に青信號出す

既報の通り、サンロラン首相およびピアソン外相らのワシントン訪問はカナダ各界から大きな期待をもつて注目されていたが、先週二日間における米國政府首腦者との會談結果はカナダにとつて有益であつたことが示されている

（一）ソ連の「平和攻勢」は心底から信用はおけず、米加兩國は世界的マサツを減少するためと、自由國家群の團結協力を深めるために一致協力しよう

（二）米國政府はカナダが度度申込んでいるセント・ローレンス運河計畫に贊成し、その工事にとりかゝる青信號を來週あたり出すであろう

（三）米國の高關稅政策に對しては政府は議會に相互通商條約の一年延長の進言を斷定手段としてとり、然るのち關稅手續の簡易化を要請することになろう

（四）ほとんど輸入禁止的な高關稅については、米國政府は將來もつと建設的で堅實な政策樹立につとめよう

と大体、サンロラン首相がアイゼンハワー大統領に苦情を申入れたのに「尤もであるからその意志に添つて善處しよう」という回答を得たものである

No-Hitter Balks Westerns, 2-0

At ... the Westerns are consistent.

Last year they were stopped by no-hit no-run hurling at the hands of Milwaukee Sports' Cliff Lowcock in the opener of the 1952 West Toronto Senior Baseball League season. This year's opener on May 9 proved to be curiously coincidental since Westerns were ... and held hitless by the masterful hurling of Rene Bouchard of West York Motors, losing 2-0.

Perhaps the score-keepers may have been a bit lenient in this instance since Westerns' Joe ... rapped a grass-cutter ... between first and second base in the second frame. The West York second sacker ... the ball momentarily ... the pill too late to catch Brown. It looked like a hit but doubtlessly the benefit of the doubt was given to Bouchard since there was no semblance of a hit thereafter.

Brown also reached first base on a walk while Major Fukumoto was the only other Westerns player to become a base-runner, getting on base through an error and advancing to second on a steal. Both died on base as Bouchard shackled the Westerns' bats.

Brown, last year's Most Valuable Player, lost a heartbreaker as he pitched well enough to win, limiting the Yorks to four hits over the 7-inning route.

One of these hits, however, proved to be his downfall as Doug Smart clouted one of his fastballs over the left field fence, an arching blow that just cleared the barrier and bounced back onto the field. West Yorks got their other run when they bunched three singles in the sixth frame. Aki Hayashi, Westerns left-fielder, ended the threat in the sixth when he threw beautifully to catcher Yuki Kameoka to catch the runner sliding into home plate when it appeared that more damage was forthcoming.

Westerns didn't threaten at any time during the game, most of their knocks being harmless grounders that the West York infielders eagerly gobbled up.

While this game is certainly no criterion and it can be argued that Bouchard was having one of his unbeatable days, Westerns' bats look weak and appear to need some bolstering. The season, however, is a maiden one and Westerns' heavier guns in Maw Mori, Joe Brown, Sho Mori and Aki Hayashi should come through as the season progresses.

But the Westerns stand out in one department. Manager Buzz Ogaki was accurate when he said that the team would be relying on speed and defence for Westerns have a sharp, alert defensive team that should rate among the top.

In the first frame when West Yorks got two runners on base via a hit batsman and a walk, Westerns' keystone combination of Major Fukumoto and Checker Nishimura wiped out the runners with a neat double play. Sho Mori on third and brother Maw on first make up the other members of a brilliant defensive corps that came up with some whistling clean plays that were a joy to behold.

The outfield platoon of Aki Hayashi, Key Tanaka and Ken Ohara had little to do since Brown kept most of the York's efforts on the ground.

Johnny Braithwaite, Negro outfielder, was in Westerns' uniform, and should add some more speed to the team when he gets into the game. The noted Tri-Bells basketball star was probably the fastest man in Canadian senior basketball this year.

Player-coach Sub Miike handled the traffic in the absence of manager Buzz Ogaki who was facing a different baptism of sorts, that of matrimony, in the same afternoon.

Over 1,000 watched the opening games although Japanese Canadian fans were less in number than the usual openers.

DAFRI GIRLS READY TO START SEASON

A new softball club has been formed this year under the banner of Dafri Jewellers in the East Toronto Junior Ladies Softball League. Coached by Eddy Saki who is interested in the possibilities of a Japanese Canadians girls team, the squad consists of both Occidental and Nisei girls.

The league is operated by a group of prominent men who are interested in the cause of a girls' league. The Dafri girls are hoping to show Torontonians that they can play the sport as well as others. They hope to get a lot of support from fans.

The teenage girls are enthusiastic about the game and some of the girls such as Amy Saki and Katharine Seo have played the game year after year, accomplishing a great deal of athletic ability. Up and coming players such as May Nagao and Ethel Tateishi have been trying hard to play on the team.

In the future, the team hopes that many other young players will come and join the squad.

Fans are urged to come out and support the team on Monday, May 18, from 7 p.m. at Coxwell Stadium, Gerrard & Danforth. For further information, contact Mickey Kaneko, manager, at OX. 9509.

Edmonton JCCA Crowns Table Tennis, Shuttle Titlists As Climax of Two-Day Tournament

EDMONTON, Alta. — The night of April 25 will be an occasion long remembered by the Edmonton Japanese Canadian Citizens Association. Not only was it a night for presentation of the hotly contested for trophies but it was the finale of two gripping Saturday evenings of play in Edmonton's ladies and men's singles badminton and table tennis tournament.

The Silk-O-Lina Trophy, symbolic of ladies table tennis supremacy, was presented to Yoshi Iwashita by S. Sugiura. The Dr. Kato Trophy for men's championship, was won by Mitso Sugiyama and presented by George Matsuba.

Ladies badminton queen was Chris Kikuchi and she received the 1953 Executive Trophy presented by Tak Ariza. Badminton king was Don Matsuba who received the Chick Sexors Trophy. Reg Miyashita gave the latter.

is a statement I get thrus' at me from my well-meaning friends. But it coming from a complete stranger took me off guard. I blurted forth, "How did you know?"

She patted my hand sympathetically. "My dear, she wants to see you married. But never mind. That day will come. You go home and tell your mother that in 1954 you're going to be married. I can feel it here . . . the vibrations . . . the tea leaves . . ."

And then the clock on the kitchen wall struck the half hour. It was time to go. I slipped her the hard-earned dollar bill and she said, "Thank you, my dear. Have I pleased you?" I smiled for the lack of words befitting the occasion.

At the door she leaned over and whispered, "And make it April or September. They're the loveliest months for a wonderful marriage."

So this was Madame A. Perhaps 1954 was my lucky year. And that initial she thought was a J could have been a T if I looked at it upside down. Yes, perhaps it could . . .

My pal broke my dream in one second flat. "You know, Cindy, she told you a lot more than she told me. I was the first to get my cup read, and all I can remember is her asking me if we all came from Vancouver."

And I heard my practical self saying, "Cindy gal,—there's a sucker born every minute!"

TORONTO — In the Metropolitan United Church on April 25, Amy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Sugamori, became the bride of Thomas Asano, son of the late Mrs. S. Asano in a charming ceremony performed by Rev. Brishin.

Her fingertip veil misted from a seeded-pearl headdress. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, white carnations and pink roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Florence Takeuchi, and bridesmaids, Jean Asano and Alice Sugamori, wore strapless ankle-length gowns of pink, yellow and blue respectively.

Attending the groom was Mutt Nakashima and ushers were Jack Asano and Sam Sugamori. Soloist was Miss Masa Hamaguchi.

After the reception held at the Great China, the couple left for a honeymoon trip to the U.S. For her going away outfit, the bride chose a salmon beige suit with brown accessories and wore and orchid corsage. They will reside in Toronto.
